

Hello Weekend! Brunch time with Emsa

Finally, it's the weekend! And what could be better than to get all your loved ones around one table to enjoy brunch together? These tips and handy helpers are sure to make the brunch a delight for guests and hosts alike!

Delicious variety

Fresh bread, bread rolls and croissants, cheese, sausages and sweet spreads such as jam are without a doubt the basis of any good brunch. Crunchy muesli served with fresh fruit salad is the perfect choice for all those who prefer to get off to the weekend with a relaxed, light breakfast. Keep yours nice and cold in a bowl with ice pack. Fans of savoury food will be delighted with an omelette made with fresh herbs, which are ready to pick all year round thanks to the Fresh Fresh Herbs herb pot. And if you're looking for something for those with a sweet tooth, waffles are always a good idea. Cupcakes or muffins can be prepared a day in advance – serve them in style in the myBakery Plus collapsible partybutler and your guests won't be able to keep their hands off them!

down. But don't forget about those tasty hot drinks: aromatic coffee or tea is simply an absolute must for the perfect brunch. It'll stay nice and hot for a long time when kept in a vacuum jug. Fun for guests and the host

This gathering is only going to be a relaxed event for the host if the amount of effort required is kept in check. Being well prepared is everything – even the guests can do their bit by bringing something with them for the buffet. You can also make more efficient use of the journey from the kitchen to the dining table with the help of a large tray. And there's no need to clear away those unwanted leftovers such as cheese rind, egg shells or tea bags if they just disappear nice and neatly in a table bin. With all this taken care of, the event will be just as fun and indulgent for guests and the host!
