

Drinking fun for kids and teens: with the new Emsa flasks

A new look – with a clear conscience

Whether they're inside or out, at home or on the go – active kids and teens get thirsty quick, but unfortunately often forget to drink enough. Cheerful flasks with their favourite motifs such as Fox, Monster or Graffiti make drinks even tastier, helping to make sure your little ones get all the water they need. And now Emsa is switching to Tritan[®] plastic for its entire range of Kids and Teens flasks: a high-quality material that guarantees completely safe drinking pleasure. Emsa is thus catering for parents' increasingly high demands when it comes to quality and products that pose no health hazards.

High-quality Tritan[®]: harmless, hygienic and safe on the go

Tritan[®] impresses with a whole host of product benefits: not only is this plastic extremely lightweight, remarkably robust and scratch-resistant, but to top it all off, it's also completely safe. Tritan[®] is BPA-free and resistant to fruit acid, so unlike traditional flasks, it is also suitable to use for diluted fruit juices or similar drinks – even without any additional inner coating. Practical: Tritan[®] is also transparent, so the filling volume is always clear to see.

Pretty smart: the red marking shows when the drinking nozzle is open – if the mark is visible, that means the bottle is open so the lid cannot be closed at this time. As soon as the drinking aperture is closed again, the lid safely snaps back into position.

Remarkably reliable: the flasks are also extremely robust and 100% leak-proof, so there's no need to worry about carrying them in a rucksack, plus they won't break if they ever fall on the floor. The flasks therefore make a faithful companion for little ones – whether they're off to school, nursery or the playground.

Easy to clean: Thanks to the new Tritan[®] body, all the components of the flask are easy to clean in the dishwasher. The external thread allows for perfect cleaning of the bottle neck and the tried-and-tested lid can even be separated into two pieces to make it easier to clean.

Sweet, age-appropriate editions for cool kids

The colourful Kids and Teens Flasks are sure to brighten the mood with their cheerful motifs for little princesses, pirates & co., letting them quench their thirst fast and in their own individual style.
